ENTHUSIASTIC GOOD ROADS MEETING IN RALEIGH YESTERDAY

Central Highway Pathfinders and People of Wake had Rousing Rally in Capital—Beginning June 5th. the Remainder of Route will be Mapped out.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 13.—The formal welcome of the Central Highway scout party of pathfinders who have just made the initial run over the proposed route from the seashore to Raleigh, was tendered here this afternoon in a mass meeting held in the court room. There were addresses of welcome by Mayor James I. Johnson, Chairman D. T. Johnson, of the board of county commissioners, A. A. Thompson, Rev. Geo. W. Lay and others and the principal response by J. D. Wellon, of Smithfield. There was also a message from Governor Kitchin regretting that he could not be present in person to welcome the pathfinders and assuring them of his heartiest interest in the success of the undertaking.

President H. B. Varner, of the board of trustees for the Central Highway presided in the meeting and, incidentally, declared that the movement is going forward in a wonderfully successful way. He announced that it is his purpose to have special meetings and Central Highway addresses in all the towns along the route, clear across the State on July 4 and set in motion a system of work to begin on July 5. Indeed, he believes that the whole line of the road can be gotten in good condition for travel with one week's work all along the route.

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt made the principal address for the meeting this afternoon, reviewing the work that is ahead in the construction of the Central Highway and treating questions in general bearing on road building in North Carolina.

After the meeting there was a luncheon served to the pathfinders at the Giersch Cafe, a number of local celebrities sharing the lunch with them.

June 5 the pathfinders will start from Marshall via. Asheville, for the run to Statesville. Two weeks later there will be the final run from Statesville to Durham and Raleigh, which will complete the run the length of the State over the proposed highway.

FARM LIFE SCHOOL WANTED IN WAKE

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 12.—A largely attended mass meeting of farmers and business men held here today under the auspices of the Wake Farmers' Union, adopted resolutions pledging support for a movement to establish a farm life school for Wake county and asking that the Wake county commissioners hold a special meeting May 20 for the purpose of ordering a special election on the questions of issuing the necessary $25,000 bonds for the school plant and for the special tax to raise the $2,500 annually that the county must provide in order to receive the additional $2,500 annually toward maintenance from the state.

There were addresses on the benefits of farm life schools by Dr. J. Y. Joyner, state superintendent of public instruction; J. V. Judd, county superintendent of schools, and Miss Edith Royster of Raleigh. Dr. Joyner stated in connection with his address that he spent the past several days in Yadkin county where farming possibilities with trained farmers are very great and was told there that the rural population of the county is considerably less than it was ten years ago and that Winston-Salem actually has a whole settlement of people who moved in from Yadkin county. He insists that the farm life school will open the way for farming that will make the country most attractive and retain the best blood and brain produced on the farm to remain there instead of moving to the cities.

Excursion to Raleigh.

The First Reformed Sunday school, of Greensboro and the Reformed Sunday school of High Point, will unite in running an excursion to Raleigh on Saturday, June 3.

INSPECTING SITES FOR THE PROPOSED STATE BUILDING

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 13.—Col. Ashley Horne, J. A. Long and J. Elwood Cox, three of the sub-commission of four named by the State Building Commission to investigate the question of a site for the $250,000 fireproof administration building and report back to the full commission, were in conference here today but made no announcement as to their conclusion. The fourth member, W. E. Springer of Wilmington, was unable to be here today.

The four members here inspected four proposed available sites as follows: The corner of Salisbury and Morgan streets, where the State owns a corner and would have to buy two adjacent lots. Another is the old hotel property, corner of Edenton and Halifax streets, now occupied by the Agricultural Department; another is the Grimes property, fronting Morgan street, between Fayetteville and Salisbury, and the fourth is the Ed Chambers Smith and W. H. Williamson property, fronting Edenton and Wilmington streets.

There is to be another conference in about ten days and then the full commission will be called together to receive the report of the sub-commission. The sub-commission is also to report on selection of a clerk to the commission and on other preliminary matters.

Corral, Reyes, De la Barra and Limantour Among Those Who Aspire to the Presidency of Mexico.

Prominent among the men who aspire to succeed Diaz as president of the republic of Mexico are Senor Ramon Corral, General Bernardo Reyes, Francisco de la Barra and Jose Yves Limantour. According to the constitution, resignation is equivalent to political death so far as it affects the succession. The vice president would assume the executive chair, and be in turn would be followed by the minister of foreign affairs. In this case the vice president, Corral, is ill and in Europe. Should Corral still be absent when Diaz gets out the new incumbent would be De la Barra, the minister of foreign affairs, who is the choice of the insurrectionists. At a popular election to choose Diaz's successor Reyes or Limantour might be successful.

CATAWBA FARMERS TO INSPECT ROADS

The Good Roads committee from the Chamber of Commerce is making arrangements for the entertainment of the two dozen Catawba county farmers who will visit Greensboro on June 2 for the purpose of inspecting the roads of Guilford county. The farmers will come to Greensboro as guests of the Catawba County News, the winners in a contest inaugurated to stir up interest in good roads in Catawba.

The Catawba citizens will be met at the station by the committee in automobiles and headed by Chairman Boren, of the County Commissioners, will be taken over a number of Guilford's macadam roads. While in the city the delegation will be entertained by the local good roads enthusiasts and every effort will be made to make their stay both pleasant and profitable.

GUILFORD WILL HAVE THREE FARM LIFE SCHOOLS

The County Board of Education met yesterday morning and decided to establish farm life schools at the Jamestown, Pleasant Garden and Monticello High Schools, each of the three places having complied with the requirements for the location of the departments. In addition to the courses now being taught in the high schools of the county there will be an instructor in agriculture and domestic science. The former will be for the boys and the latter for the girls. Ten acres of land will be used as experiment stations at each of the schools. The addition of these departments will mean much to the growth and development of agricultural resources of the county.

MEETING TO BOOST AUTOMOBILE TOUR

Chamber of Commerce will Hold Meeting Monday Night—Entries for Reliability Contest are Coming in—Ladies Invited to Join the Touring Party.

There was another entry yesterday in the Greensboro to Henderson reliability contest. This entry is a five passenger Case touring car, entered by J. H. Miller of Salisbury.

Interest in the contest is growing and it is believed that the highest expectations of the Chamber of Commerce will be realized.

For the purpose of further stimulating interest in the tour a meeting of all the members of the Chamber of Commerce has been called to assemble Monday night. The meeting will be held in the assembly room of this body in the McAdoo building. All members of the body and every automobile owner of the city, and every person interested in the success of this contest is urged to attend this meeting.

In a conversation yesterday with a representative of the Telegram Secretary C. C. McLean of the Chamber of Commerce spoke of the fact that the tour is open to women as well as men and said the promoters of the movement would be glad to have entries of cars by ladies. He said further that it is hoped a number of ladies will join the party and by their presence add to the pleasure of the trip.

There will be no regular service at West Market Street Methodist church this evening, but the stereopticon lecture on mission work, which has been given in the annex during the past three nights to the enjoyment and profit of large audiences, will be given at eight o'clock. TAFT AGAINST RECALL OF THE JUDICIARY

Special to Telegram.

New York, May 13.—In a speech at the Hotel Astor tonight before the conference on criminal law and procedure President Taft took a strong stand against the recall of the judiciary. He said in part: "It can hardly be said that the proposed change would give greater authority or power for usefulness, or constitute a reform in the enforcement of the criminal law of this country. It will certainly not diminish the power or irresponsibility of counsel for the defendant. Let us hope that the strong sense of humor of the American people which has so often saved them from the power of demagogy will not be lacking in respect of this nostrum."

MILLION CATHOLICS WILL FIGHT AGAINST IMMORAL PLAYS

KNIGHTS OF GRIP MEET HERE IN JUNE

Grand Council U. C. T. of the Carolinas will be in Session June 2, 3—Local Council Arranging to Give Visiting Knights a Royal Time.

A called meeting of Greensboro Council, United Commercial Travelers, was held last night for the purpose of discussing and mapping out the program for the meeting of the Grand Council of the Carolinas, which will be held here on June 2 and 3. It is estimated that a thousand traveling men will visit Greensboro on this occasion and the local "knights of the grip" are making every arrangement to make the visitors glad they selected Greensboro as a meeting place.

While the details have not yet been completed the program as arranged will be about as follows:

The convention will be called to order in the opera house on Friday, June 2, at 10 o'clock and Mayor Murphy will deliver the welcome address. The response will be by E. Van Schaack, of Columbia, S. C. The opening session will be open to the public and a cordial invitation to attend is extended the public.

At 11 a. m. the council will meet in the K. of P. hall and the business attended to, there being also an afternoon session.

On Friday evening from 9 to 12 there will be a reception and dance in Neese's hall, music to be furnished by Hood's orchestra. This will be attended by a large number of Greensboro people. The wives of a number of the travelers will come to Greensboro and during the afternoon, while the Knights are in session, the ladies will be shown over the city in automobiles.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the annual grand street parade will be given. The street parade is a spectacular and interesting affair and will be witnessed by thousands of people. The travelers will be in uniforms of white trousers and black coats, each carrying a white, yellow and blue parasol. About six hundred Knights are expected to take part in the parade. Following the parade the travelers will take cars for Lindley park where dinner will be served.

At 2 o'clock teams representing the travelers of North and South Carolina will contest for the supremacy of the diamond at Cone Park. This game will no doubt be one of the richest seen at the park during the season and will be largely attended.

His family has gone there already. Rev. Mennen is expected to return the end of this month.

WRECKED STEAMSHIP CARRIED FORTUNE IN BAR SILVER

Ward Liner Merida, Thirty Fathoms in Water, Has in Safe $300,000 of Passengers and Ship's Money Besides Baggage of Passengers—None Can be Recovered.

Special to Telegram.

New York, May 13.—Fifty-six miles off the coast of Hatteras in thirty fathoms of water lies Merida, the 1,300,000 ward line steamship, on board which is sixteen tons of bar silver worth $1,000,000, while locked in her purser's safe are some $300,000 of passengers and ship's money and diamonds and other jewels, the value of which is unknown, but it will be thousands of dollars. On the ill-fated steamer is also all the baggage of 300 passengers and the crew.

The total loss is estimated at $3,500,000, none of which can ever be recovered by diving, according to H. Middleton, the third officer of the steamer. "Thirty-one fathoms," he said, "means 186 feet and I understand that divers could not live in pressure at that depth."

All the passengers and crew were rescued after midnight last night and only one person, a woman, was injured.

Loveliest American Peeress.

RIOT AMONG INSURRECTOS AT JUAREZ

Special to Telegram.

El Paso, Texas, May 13.—A riot and uprising among the insurrectos occurred at Juarez this morning, hundreds of the insurrectos rushing from house to house where the federals were confined shouting "death to Navarro." Orozco, a fighting leader of the rebels, led the tumult and he rushed in front of President Madero and flourished a pistol in his face, demanding that he abdicate the provisional presidency and consider himself under arrest. He demanded that Madero and his cabinet get out of office at once and for good. Madero carried himself with discretion and courage and yielded to none of the demands of the rioting rebel, as to himself or Navarro. Finally Orozco put up his pistol and walked off with Madero to discuss his conduct.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING FOR THE RAILROAD?

What are you doing to help along the plans for the building of a railroad from Greensboro via Burlington to Roxboro, Oxford and Henderson?

This is the proposition which the Chamber of Commerce is working on at present, with prospects of being able to successfully work out its plans. If the new road is built it will connect with the Norfolk and Western at Roxboro and with the Seaboard Air Line at Henderson. This will give Greensboro a new railroad outlet and connections with roads which can now be reached from this city only through Southern connections. It will open up new territory tributary to this city and add thousands of population to the number of possible customers of Greensboro's stores and various lines of business. It will give these people direct railroad connection with and put them in close touch with this city. It will give Greensboro another line of railroad—and the city cannot possibly have too many railroads.

The number of lines of railroad centering here have had much to do with making Greensboro the important city it is today. More railroads will add to the importance of the city and will materially assist in its development and upbuilding. Hence the importance of securing another line of railroad, and of mapping out a route for the road through new and undeveloped territory.

This is the Greensboro and Roxboro railroad proposition in a nutshell; and the Chamber of Commerce and the business men of the city assert that they are going to build this line. They can do it with the co-operation of all the people of the city and the people of the cities and towns and the country through which the line will be constructed. If built the road will help Greensboro and it will help all the counties through which it passes and every city, town and village on the line.

The new railroad is a matter of vital consequence to the interests of this city and it ought to be a matter of intense interest to every citizen of Greensboro. The Chamber of Commerce has planned an automobile tour for the purpose of enabling a large number of citizens to go over the route of the proposed railroad, see the country, meet the people, talk about building the road and to stir up enthusiasm for the movement. This trip will doubtless prove the entering wedge and will open up the way for taking the active steps necessary to inauguarate the construction of the road. Hence the importance of the automobile run and the fact that every Greensboro citizen should manifest some interest in it.

The automobile reliability tour is a new thing in this State, and in this matter as in others, Greensboro leads. It is being talked about throughout this and in other States. It will prove a big advertisement for Greensboro; and, in addition, will accomplish the purpose for which it is planned, which is to start the movement going to build the new railroad.

No citizen should pass the automobile tour by, as a mere pleasure trip or a matter unworthy of attention. It will afford pleasure to those who make the trip and doubtless to the people along the way; but the object of the trip is business—and it is going to get results.

"Now for the simple life a while," says the Greenville Piedmont. Thought it was the simple life always in Greenville.

The insurrectos have failed to make the recall work in the case of President Diaz.

The newspapers that are expecting R. E. Call to be given a job immediately in Greensboro or Wilmington are doomed to disappointment.

Somebody has suggested that a comic supplement be added to the Congressional Record. This is unnecessary. The Record as it is published is funny enough.

Diaz will look well at the head of the down and out aggregation when he gets to the end of the rope and is forced to turn loose. However, he is a resourceful fellow and it is hard to figure just when he is due to drop.

The Wilmington Dispatch thinks that blue laws are the cause of a good deal of blue feelings on the part of some folks. Not in Wilmington, however. Down there blue laws are simply ignored.

The election called in Robeson county to vote on the proposition to establish a farm life school was called off and has evidently been postponed indefinitely. It seems that the election was postponed at the instance of the friends of the movement and probably because they feared the measure would be voted down in the election. Craven county adopted the farm life school proposition in the election recently held there.

The Columbia State truthfully says that "A stranger can't appease his appetite with slogans." While that is a fact, we do better than try to feed people with slogans in Greensboro. The slogans attract them to this city and after they get here they become so filled with Greensboro enthusiasm that they are frequently unable to find room for all the good things to eat which are obtainable here.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch, opposed to everything thought to be new and, therefore, opposed to the initiative, referendum and recall, indorses Woodrow Wilson as the Democratic candidate for President with the proviso that he change his views in regard to these matters. This is most remarkable, to say the least of it, and it is an indication of the fact that Governor Wilson is growing on the country at a rapid rate. The manner in which the Times-Dispatch calls for revision of his views in regard to innovations which it is not prepared to accept, indicates that it may come around and support Wilson anyway, whether he comes or does not come around to its views of the initiative, referendum and recall.

Mothers' Day.

Aside from the sentimental value of Mothers' Day, the festival has amply justified itself as an antidote for the cynicism that would have us believe that this age is utterly material, and discouraging to the dearer, more intimate virtues.

Within three years the Mothers' Day idea has spread from one end of the land to the other, and has been taken up in the nations of Europe, Asia and the south seas.

The original intent for Mothers' Day was to set aside one day of the year, which should be dedicated to the service of individual mothers. We believe that the wonderful spread of the observance has been due to the power in the appeal that every mother has for her own children. If a day had been proposed for the celebration of the glories of motherhood in the abstract, it would have had no such reception as the new Mothers' Day has had.

From the first, the lines have been laid down on purely personal grounds. That is, each individual was asked to make the day one of special honor to his own mother.

It is really an appeal to adults who have arrived at a full appreciation of the meaning of motherhood and of the infinite debt that each of us owes to mother.

It is in no sense a children's day. Any attempt to make it such may contribute to the personal gratification of young and vigorous parents who take pride in seeing their little ones participate in public exercises, but such an observance of Mother's Day is at variance with the exalted ideal which gave this new festival to the world.

Mothers' Day is the one celebration in our national calendar that calls upon us to turn our face to the past rather than to the future. And not the least of the service that the new festival has rendered may be that it halts a headlong age, keen in pursuit, and calls for contemplation of the best that human mind may know of the past.

There is pathos as well as sentiment in Mothers' Day, for its ideal is the grand army of mothers, whose work is done, whose race is won. There is a suggestion in it of folded hands, and dim eyes, and shadowy smiles.

Millions of these mothers live in their absent children. Mothers' Day calls the children back home in body or in spirit. And the white carnation is the sign of the pure bond, the most refined of all human emotions, the love between a mother and those to whom she has given life.—Philadelphia North American.

Former Greensboro Man Makes Good in Uncle Sam's Service

The regular duty of Captain Clarence O. Sherrill is instructor in the department of engineering at the Army School of the Line at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., but when the mobilization of the troops in Texas occurred and an intervention in Mexico seemed inevitable the government sent Captain Sherrill to Camp Crockett, where he is now located on the staff of General A. L. Mills as chief engineer.

Captain Sherrill is a "tarheel," having been born in North Carolina May 24, 1876. He entered the United States Military Academy in 1897 and was graduated February 18, 1901. He was made first lieutenant January 29, 1903, and promoted to the rank of captain February 14, 1908. Captain Sherrill has been stationed at Fort Leavenworth for seven years, where he has come to be recognized as one of the brightest young men in the engineering service of Uncle Sam. That he has attained more than the usual measure of efficiency in his chosen line is evidenced by the fact that he is the author of two books on engineering, both of which have been adopted by the war department and are in use in the numerous schools of engineering throughout the country. His first book, "Military Topography and Sketching," won for him the praise of the war department which acknowledged Captain Sherrill's authority on the subject by officially adopting the book and sending copies to the engineers in the service. His second book, "Map Reading," was also adopted by the war department and at the present time the book is reported to have a heavy sale throughout the country and is to be found in all schools of engineering.

Captain Sherrill also has the distinction of being the only graduate of the engineering department to go through the infantry and calvary school at Leavenworth. He became an honor graduate from this school in 1906. He is one of four that have graduated from the Staff College, having finished at this school in 1907.

Since his arrival at Camp Crockett Captain Sherrill has made a topographical map of Galveston Island which has proven of immense value to the troops in making extended hikes on the island. General Mills has already signified his intention of having Captain Sherrill cover the ground of the proposed hike and make maps of a suitable line of march. Captain Sherrill is one of the busiest men at Camp Crockett and has rendered services since his arrival here that have caused much favorable comment at brigade headquarters.

But, working on the idea that "all work and no play, etc.," Captain Sherrill contributes his share toward making things lively at the camp, and many a good joke has been traced back to the captain. Quick-witted, cheerful and at all times courteous, the captain has become to be known as one of the most popular officers at Camp Crockett. The only instance on record at the camp of Captain Sherrill having lost his temper was when someone annexed a large wooden mallet which he had for the express purpose of driving tent pins in rainy weather. It is said that Captain Sherrill has tried every method of tracing the lost mallet known from a detachment of soldiers to a News want ad and has not yet given up the search.

Captain Sherrill has traveled much and is thoroughly conversant with army matters in their various phrases. He served as aide to President Theodore Roosevelt in the White House and much to the satisfaction of the strenuous one, it is said. He also served as aide to General J. Franklin Bell in the Philippine Islands for more than two years.—Galveston News.

Tommy—"Pop, who was Ananias?" Tommy's Pop—"Ananias, my son, was the man who first conceived the possibilities of the summer resort booklet."

Jauntily she entered the fruit store. "Do you keep dates?" she asked. The new clerk blushed. "Yes, Miss," he stammered. "Where shall I meet you?"

EVIDENCE COUNTS IN AN IMPARTIAL TRIAL but too often justice miscarries, and those who are guilty are not punished because of some opinion or prejudice on the part of those who are to decide on the case, the testimony is not always given its full value and quite frequently it is overestimated.

THIS IS NOT THE CASE IN JUDGING YOUR ADVERTISING MEDIUM, results should govern the advertiser in selecting the channels through which the public are to be kept advised of the opportunities presented. The concensus of opinion of the leading advertisers of the world today is that NEWSPAPER advertising is the result producing method. This is not a snap shot judgment, but it is the result of a thorough and fair trial. If you have not joined the army of successful advertisers and consequently successful business men, wake up and get in the game.

IN GREENSBORO, THE TELEGRAM, THE PAPER that goes home, that prints all the news that is fit to print while the bloom is on it, is the newspaper which affords you the BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

A Spring Suggestion by a Trained Druggist.

Appendicitis and many other ills come from Constipation and over-loading with food which the system cannot care for. The bowels must be cleared and antisepticised to give their normal functions and this should not be done by strong Cathartics, as every physician will tell you. Vick's Little Liver Pills have been the bowels and mild stimulation to the lazy liver and thus cure trouble in adults and children.

Talk to Mothers.

There is need in the home for cuts, bruises, sores and sprains, children and others are heirs to a real good antiseptic liniment, one which will not burn and hurt worse than the wound itself, and which will give the greatest relief and prevent scars. Vick's Liniment is prepared for this purpose. Take this suggestion from a trained druggist who knows.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is donig wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

(Copyright 1910 by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

May 14th, 1911.

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Isaiah's Vision and Call to Service. (Home Missionary Lesson.) Isa. vi.

Golden text—I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, here am I, send me. Isa. vi:8.

(1.) Verses 1-4—Why did God give this vision to Isaiah?

(2.) Do you think that any such vision needs repeating? Why?

(3.) When we have any special Divine illumination what is the advantage of connecting it with some event, or putting down the date, as Isaiah seems to have done?

(4.) Did Isaiah or anybody else ever see with the outward eyes, the actual eternal God, and will He ever be so seen?

(5.) Is there any reason to think that Seraphim, or angels, are to be seen everywhere in the universe, if we had the media through which to see them?

(6.) Verse 5—How was it that the sight of the Lord made Isaiah conscious of his sinfulness?

(7.) What if any reason is there to conclude that the use of coarse slang, or profanity, proves the user to be an impure man?

(8.) Which is the more effectual way to reveal to sinners their guilt, to correct them with words, or to live pure lives before them? Why?

(9.) What effect does the teaching of the spotless purity of Jesus have, upon sinful men?

(10.) Verses 6-7—What is God's attitude to sinners who are conscious of, and loathe themselves because of their sins?

(11.) What is the "live coal," with which the Seraphim touched the lips of Isaiah, emblematic of?

(12.) What actually transpires in a man's spiritual nature, when he comes to God for the pardon of his sins?

(13.) What reason is there to think that angels, or spirits, have anything to do with the salvation, or the spiritual comfort of men and women today?

(14.) Verse 8—What class of men and women does God need, and call to be missionaries?

(15.) What are the indications that God is calling to-day, with a loud voice, for missionaries? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(16.) Is it possible for any person to be in harmony with God who is not willing to be a missionary, or to support a missionary, if the Lord should so demand?

(17.) What reasons are there to conclude that it is the duty of pastors in these days, to look out for suitable young men, and call them to missionary work?

(18.) Verses 9-10—The prophet was being sent to a people familiar with God's message, and hardened in sin: what is generally the doom of such people?

(19.) What is the use of continuing to preach to a gospel hardened people?

(20.) When sinners hear the call of God to repentance, and heed it not, what change takes place in them for better or worse?

(21.) Verses 11-13—It is very trying to preach without results, but is there anything in this story to indicate that in time, a faithful servant of God will surely cause some to hear and turn to the Lord?

THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS BIBLE QUESTION CLUB.

We again call attention to our Local Club in connection with the I. P. B. Q. C. We are safe in saying that nothing in the line of Bible study has so profoundly impressed the people of Greensboro as the "Suggestive Questions" which we print today for the ninth week. If any of our readers do not read these questions they had better commence, or they will soon begin to feel lonesome.

If you are already a subscriber to The Telegram, can you spend $5.00 better than by ordering this paper for 52 weeks, or to the end of this contest, for some worthy young person, that he or she may take up the course of reading and compete for the prizes. Only one person can use one paper, as there is only one coupon in each, and that is sufficient only for one person to certify that the reading has been done. Now is the time to put the Telegram into the hands of all who should take up the study of these "Suggestive Questions," so as to be in good trim to start when the contest commences in five weeks from now. If you can induce any person, young or old, to take up this easy course of study, you will do him or her more good than you can ever estimate. Now is the time to come into line yourself and induce others to do so. Use the attached coupon for your order.

POMONA BETTERMENT ASSOCIATION.

The Betterment Association of the Pomona school held its first meeting for the present school year Tuesday afternoon.

On November 16, 1910, the financial committee of this organization purchased a piano for $350; paying $100 down. A friend of the school gave $20 toward paying the remaining debt.

This year an entertainment was given at Christmas, and an ice cream party on the 5th inst. The proceeds of these, together with some private contributions in the neighborhood and from the school, amount to $147, which the association has cleared this year.

The payment of $140 made yesterday on the piano debt brings that down to $90.

The association gives annually a prize to the grade making the highest percent of attendance for the year.

The prize goes this year to the 8th grade. It is a beautiful picture of sir Galabael.

Possibly during the summer there will be given another entertainment of some kind, as the ladies of this organization are anxious to begin the next year free from debt.

The association wishes to thank all the friends and patrons of the school who have so kindly helped this work already.

DIRT ROADS

How to Build and Maintain Them.

By JOSEPH HYDE PRATT.

When we stop to consider the number of miles of road in any county and compare this number with the small number representing the miles of specially surfaced road, we can readily see that it will be a great many years—perhaps, generations— before all, or even half the public roads are surfaced with macadam, or sand-clay. For this reason it is very important that we should give very careful consideration and thought to the construction and maintenance of the the dirt road.

When properly constructed, the dirt road can be kept in good condition throughout the whole year, except, perhaps, during periods of severe freezes and thaws. At the present time we have very few earth roads but what can be improved, and usually the question of the improvement is not a very difficult one to solve.

The old idea that anybody can build a dirt road is fast losing ground, and our people are beginning to realize that road construction, even of dirt roads, requires men who have been trained in this line of work. As careful thought should be given to the construction of dirt roads as is given to the hard-surfaced roads; and in those counties which rely on just the labor tax for the construction of their public roads a great advance can be made if the labor tax is utilized under the supervision of an experienced engineer.

The location of any public road is the only permanent portion of the road; therefore, great care should be taken that when the road is once constructed there should be no question whatever regarding its relocation. In locating a road it should be done so as to permit of an easy grade—none over 4 1-3 per cent—and should be constructed so that it will readily shed the rainfall. How often we see a road going up a hill and down the other side, when, by building around the side of the hill, it could have been kept at an even grade, reaching the identical point within the same distance, or but a little greater.

If, in grading a road, we have any grades over 4 1-3 per cent, it will be necessary to construct across the surface of the road a V-shaped surface ditch to turn the water off the surface of the road, for if this is not done the water will, with the grade over 4 1-3 per cent. have momentum enough to seriously gully the surface of the road. No matter how carefully these V-shaped ditches across the surface of a road are constructed, they are very inconvenient to travel, are hard on the wagons, and should be avoided wherever possible. They can be avoided if the grade is kept below 4 1-3 per cent.

The dirt road is more susceptible to damage by water than, of course, any of the specially surfaced roads; therefore, great care should be taken to work out an efficient system of drainage for the road. Water must be kept away from the road, and the rain which falls on the road must be permitted to run off as rapidly as possible, and by a very easy grade. It must not only be taken off the surface of the road as rapidly as possible, but also out of the side ditches. Care should be taken that these side ditches are not too steep, and that every opportunity is seized for turning the water out of the ditches into the adjoining fields.

Many of our country roads are bad because in their construction no arrangement was made for taking care of the water, and thus they are very muddy and filled with ruts and holes. Instead of the middle of the road being higher than the edges, so that the water can readily run off on each side, many of them are flat, or even concave, with the center of the road the lowest point. If the road has been constructed so that it is well crowned, with the slope about 1 in 20 from the center of the road to the side ditches, and these ditches have been graded so as to readily take care of the water, and yet not steep enough to cause them to cut gullies on the side of the road, and if the water is taken from these ditches at every available point so as to prevent seepage of water under the surface of the road, there should be little difficulty in keeping the road in good condition. Very often it is necessary to carry the water from one side of the road to the other; and when this is necessary, it should be done by means of either concrete, metal, or terracotta culverts or pipes which will carry the water under the surface of the road. After the system of drainage has been installed, provision should be made to keep it up, so that the drains and the culverts will not become stopped up.

The surface of a dirt road should be kept of dirt, and whenever any holes or ruts have developed in the road, they should not be filled up with stone, or brush, but with dirt, and with dirt as nearly as possible of the same character as the dirt composing the surface of the balance of the road. If, on the other hand, holes or ruts are filled with rock, gravel, or brush, the wearing effect will be uneven, and the wheels will begin to scoop and cut out holes just beyond or on the opposite side of the road from the hole filled up. If there are stumps or rocks in the road, they should all be removed, so that the dirt surface can be smoothed over and brought to an even slope from the center to the ditches. After the road has been well constructed and the right slope and surface obtained, it can be kept in this condition very readily by judicious application of the split-log or King drag. This simple road machine, if used regularly after a rain when the roadbed is wet, will smooth and shape up the road, so that as soon as it has dried out it will be firm and hard. The drag will fill up the ruts and holes and will keep the dirt road in first-class condition, with hard surface, throughout nearly the whole year.

As moisture is very detrimental to a dirt road, the sun should be permitted to strike the surface of a dirt road as much as possible; and, therefore, care should be taken not to have too much shade along a dirt road, and, where necessary, the trees should be cut away so that the whole surface of the road is exposed to the sun for at least several hours during the day. Shade is good for a macadam road, but bad for a dirt road.

In repairing a dirt road the same thought must be given as in the construction of the road, and, when cleaning out ditches, the material should not be thrown into the middle of the road or any part of the surface of the road, but it should be thrown into the adjoining fields; for this material is usually composed largely of fine silt and vegetable material which holds moisture like a sponge and becomes very difficult to dry out, and is entirely different in character and consistency from the dirt surface of the road. How many times we have seen the dirt road repaired by

CITIES CLASH WITH COUNTRY

Their Interests Opposed In Reciprocity Bill.

COST OF LIVING FIGURES.

Towns Want Cheap Foodstuffs Grown In Rural Districts, and Farmers Want Cheap Machinery Made In the Towns. If Editor Is Hired For the Congressional Record He Will Be Busy.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 13.—(Special).—General Hancock said that the tariff was a local issue, and he was right. But a different line has been drawn which proves his contention and also opens up a new political condition.

Tariff legislation in the Sixty-second congress has developed a dividing line between town and country. The old debating societies used to wage a wordy war as to which was preferable as a place of residence, and it never did seem to get settled. Now it appears that there is a sharp division between city and country over the tariff growing out of the Canadian reciprocity bill and the free list bill. The first was opposed by the farmers and the latter is said to be for the farmers.

And in the matter of cost of living, for which the tariff has been blamed, the city people want low duties on foodstuffs which are raised in the country, and the farmers are insisting upon low duties on farm machinery made by city people. Things are somewhat topsy-turvy in politics these days, and it takes a mighty good politician to keep his politics straight all the time.

Work For an Editor.

It has long been claimed that the Congressional Record needs an editor, but every time any one attempts to carry out the idea he finds too many obstacles in the way. What such an editor should do in case he is ever appointed is to edit the old jokes and chestnuts out of the speeches.

It is surprising to see how many new members spring old moth eaten and moldy chestnuts. And they have the nerve to insert "laughter" after each one, just as a "leave to print" speech is copiously punctuated with "applause."

Insurgent and More.

Congressman Kent of California is not only an insurgent, but he is more. He does not like a number of things which are accepted as necessary facts. In a speech in the house he had something to say about Hawaii which places conditions in that territory in a new light.

"It is a country of corporations and yellow men," he declared. "The white men are greatly outnumbered, and there is danger of the yellow men some day overturning the pie and destroying the upper crust. To prevent such an unfortunate occurrence and to protect the protected sugar industry we are taxed for an increase in our navy. To protect the navy, which must protect the protected sugar industry, we must be taxed to fortify Pearl Harbor, and to protect Pearl Harbor we must keep an army in the vicinity."

Kent has had many letters of indorsement from T. Roosevelt. It would be interesting to know just what the ex-president thinks of Kent's anti-expansion and anti-military utterances.

Mule In New Garb.

No doubt many people have read the kindly words and eulogy which William J. Bryan passed upon the donkey as the emblem of the Democratic party, but here is a new dressing for the mule. Ollie James was talking in the house and pointed out how Champ Clark had scorned to use the automobile which a generous government provided for the speaker and in which Uncle Joe dashed about the city.

"Can you tell us about those mules we heard so much of last winter?" asked Nick Longworth, referring to the pair which Speaker Clark was to drive down Pennsylvania avenue. In reply James spoke thus of the mule:

"Oh, the mule is always the friend of the Democratic party and the people. The mule is never like the emblem of your party, the elephant, which is always on dress parade. The mule is always plowing and doing work, trying to feed somebody, aiding some one. The elephant is always parading and never doing anything, always claiming and never performing."

Christmas For Carriers.

Congressman Burnett of Alabama has introduced a bill which will give rural letter carriers a holiday on Christmas, no matter upon what day it falls. It was supposed that Christmas was a legal holiday in every part of the United States and that no one was obliged to work on that day. No doubt the Burnett bill will be passed.

Practical Economy.

It will be interesting to note how far Senator Smoot will get with his scheme to save a million and a quarter dollars each year on public printing. As soon as it is found that a large number of employees at the government printery will be affected we may look for organized opposition which will hamper the reform at every step.

But the Utah senator is a determined individual, and he may be able to make progress with his proposed saving in the printing bills.

Oklahoma, increasing cloudiness and continued high temperatures.

Texas, generally cloudy, continued high temperatures.

Atlantic States, generally fair.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New Orleans, La., May 13.—Liverpool is steady but inactive. Futures of both crops closed about unchanged. Spots 1 point lower; sales 6,000. The total Liverpool stock of American cotton is 348,000 vs. 653,000 last year and 1,205,000 year before. The continental stock of American is 616,000 vs 653,000 last year and 1,020,000 year before. This shows how relatively poorly the continent is supplied until new crops can arrive there in quantity.

The map shows cloudy in western half of the belt, partly cloudy to fair in eastern half. No rain except in the far Northwest Texas, beyond the cotton line. A sprinkle at Corpus Christi and Vicksburg. Night temperatures are now relatively high. Conditions are favorable except in the Atlantics, these have had relatively very little rain in the past 3 to 4 weeks but lots of unusually cold weather. Temperatures in the Atlantic States generally fair no wbut rain is beginning to be needed.

Indications are for partly cloudy to fair weather in the Eastern half of the belt; continued cloudy in western half, with unsettled showers over Sunday in the Northwestern quarter. Dry groods reports are showing a decided change for the better. The demand for goods is broadening fast and buyers are coming up to the higher prices asked by producers of goods.

The market ruled easier in the first hour on realizing by the smaller longs before Sunday but this selling seemed to be so readily absorbed by the leading interests that prices were forced up to 15.82 for July and 14.97 for August.

NORTH STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 13.—In view of wide and varying comment on the action of the state commissioner of insurance in ruling that the proposed change of base by insurance companies to pay agents in this state graduated commissions on an increased scale, but stipulating that the agents could not accept agencies for other companies on a different basis could not apply in this state under Section 3491 of the general insurance law a ruling just procured from Attorney General Bickett in the issue will be of interest. He holds that the section does not prohibit any insurance company paying any commissions it sees fit, but simply provides that the company shall not make or maintain any stipulation or agreement in restraint of or limiting the compensation which any agent may receive from any other company. This sustains the ruling that Commissioner Young made some weeks ago.

The Pelican Fire Insurance Company, of New York, has applied to the state department of insurance for license to do business in this state. The commissioner of insurance says there are now twice as many insurance companies doing business in this state as in any other state in this section of the country, and applications for admission are coming in with unusual frequency. He says only about half of the companies licensed in this state are members of the Southeastern Tariff Association.

C. H. Mebane, of the state department of education, has returned from Wilkes county where he delivered the literary address for the commencement of the Wilkes county public schools, this being the third county in the state to adopt the unique plan of having all the public schools of the county join in one closing exercises. The affair was a complete success in every detail. Some especially notable features of the progress of schools in Wilkes are that the county now has 38 local tax districts and the number of schools having assistant teachers has increased from three to thirty within ten years.

W. M. Freeman, of Elk Park, has been selected as county superintendent of the public schools in the new county of Avery.

Adjutant General Leinster received a call from the War Department for the designation of another group of four guard officers for the special training in San Antonio, Texas camp, Mexican border, to report there May 27. Specification is that there be one major of infantry, and three company officers. Gen. Leinster names the following: Major R. L. Flanigan, First Infantry, Statesville; Capt. W. S. Privott, Second Infantry, Edenton; Capt. W. O. Burgin, Third Infantry, Thomasville (Mayor of the town); and Capt. E. D. Kuykendall, Third Coast Artillery, Greensboro.

The clerical force of the North Carolina Corporation Commission enjoyed a delightful outing today at Neuse river as the guests of Secretary A. J. Maxwell, of the commission. They drove out this morning with full picnic and fishing equipment.

S. GLENN BROWN ELECTED MUNICIPAL COURT CLERK

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Commissioners S. Glenn Brown was elected clerk of the Municipal Court, succeeding City Clerk Michaux, who has held the clerkship since the organization of the court. The salary is $300 per year. Mr. Michaux will now be free to devote his entire time to the city's work and by relieving him of the court work will be enabled to get along with his assistant, W. L. Murray, without the services of another clerk. The tax books will now be kept in the clerk's office, the mayor to have direct charge of the work and assist in preparing the tax lists, etc.

Another action of the board that will be heartily commended was the election of Capt. J. W. Fry as superintendent of the cemetery, parks and public grounds, his salary being fixed at $300 per year. Capt. Fry's services as chairman of the cemetery trustees have been invaluable, the cemetery at a minimum cost having been made one of the most beautiful in the country and it has probably the best drainage system of any cemetery in the State.

I wish to express through the columns of The Telegram, my heartfelt thanks and appreciation of kindness and assistance many friends have extended me during the illness of my husband.

The work on the Young Men's Christian Association building is progressing rapidly. The walls have now been laid to the third story and during this week, if the weather permits, the roof on the gymnasium will be put in place. The plumbers are now busy putting in the plumbing. Secretary Martin stated last night that the work was progressing so rapidly that the contractors are drawing on an average several hundred dollars each day and it keeps the building committee hustling to raise the necessary funds to make payments as stipulated in the contract.

Editor Telegram:

McLeansville, May 13.—Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words in regard to the "Split log drag" and its work on our public roads.

This method seems at present the most popular and effective way. But with one exception it is almost ideal on local roads, and that exception is it cannot get into the side-ditch properly.

But our popular and progressive proprietor of the old "Doggett Mill," W. S. Snyder, has invented a side-ditch drag, that has overcome these difficulties, and when used in connection with the "split log" is simply ideal.

Mr. Snyder took me over a half mile of road yesterday just north of his mill on which he had used this side-ditch drag and to my surprise I found instead of the holes that were there the last time I passed there was a well rounded roadbed, with side-ditches deep enough to hold the road in good shape.

Mr. Snyder would be glad to see the local township commissioners take advantage of this inexpensive, but effective device. He offers his model to the commissioners for the good of the cause.

The ditch drag is built very much on the same principle of the split log, only it is a V shape and ironed at the bottom, and front seam with light steel bars, the shorter side serves as a land slide and shoves the dirt into the center of the road. It is simply wonderful how it handles dirt. It will cost less than three dollars each, to complete them.

Mr. Snyder says he "can move as much dirt in two hours with a good team as $20 would move with shovels." He remarked "We cannot afford to shovel dirt any more. Life is too short, we must use our heads on inventions."

Those interested in the effective work of the split log drag would do well to investigate this matter and to those who are not acquainted with Mr. Snyder I will say, you will find him to be a courteous gentleman of a splendid type, easily approached on intelligent business, and also a man who has the welfare of his county at heart.

A CROWNING CURSE.

The effects of alcohol are a crowning curse. Its horrors have never been fully portrayed. No pencil is black enough to paint the picture and do it full justice. No tongue is eloquent enough to tell the sad story in all its dreadful details. The use of alcohol is a wide and withering scourge. It is a physical curse—blearing the eyes, blistering the tongue, deranging the stomach, paralyzing the nerves, hardening the liver, poisoning the blood, coagulating the brain, inducing and aggravating many diseases, and digging myriads of premature graves. It is a financial curse—draining the pocket, inviting poverty, diminishing comforts, multiplying miseries, filling alms-houses, and creating hard times. It is a mental curse—clouding the judgment, dethroning the reason, promoting ignorance, producing imbecility, and transforming its unhappy victims into maniacs and fools. It is a moral curse—weakening the will, inflaming the passions, hushing the voice of conscience, and preparing the way for every vice and crime.

You can never remove the curse by legalizing the crime. The colossal curse of drunkenness will continue so long as drunkard factories are permitted, protected, and perpetuated by law. A liquor license law is the most reprehensible thing in this great Republic. I religiously hate, abhor, repudiate and abominate it, in any form or for any price. Let me file four objections to liquor license:

Objections to a License Law.

1. It is wrong in principle. Ten thousand legal enactments can never make it right for one man to run a business that tends directly to make paupers, criminals, lunatics and idiots of his neighbors. To sanction a great wrong, is itself a wrong. He, therefore, who votes for license, becomes particeps criminis—as guilty before God as the man who stands behind the bar. A church that expels the rum-seller ought to expel every man who votes in favor of licensing the rum-shop.

2. It is ruinious in policy. Even if the traffic paid a thousand times the revenue it does, it would be a burning shame to run our government with such blood-money. The heathen emperor of China teaches America a worthy lesson when he says: "I will never consent that the State shall seek profit from the suffering and degradation of the people." But from a purely financial standpoint, the license-policy is "penny wise and pound foolish."

3. It is lame in logic. Acting upon the philosophy of a license law, you approve the cause and condemn the effect. You authorize a drunkard factory, and punish the drunkard; poison men by law, and then imprison them for allowing the poison to work.

4. It is a failure in practice. We know it, for we have tried it. We have tried it long, tried it thoroughly, and tried it in every shape. Dr. Leeswell says: "Britain has tried, other nations have tried, restriction and regulation. The experiment has failed—miserably failed!" It is obviously the devil's flank movement on Prohibition. The dram-shop can never be "regulated" into anything safe or decent. You might as well try to regulate rattlesnakes into harmless playthings for your children.

Prohibition the Remedy.

The axe must be laid at the root of the tree. This deadly upas is not to be watered, fertilized and perpetuated by license laws, but cut down by the Prohibition axe, for Prohibition is the only effectual remedy for this ghastly disease.

The power to annihilate the liquor-traffic resides in the government. But the people are the government, and when the people get ready to strike the decisive blow, the work will be done.

Prohibitory Law is Necessary.

Law is a moral educator. Judge Sprague wisely said: "The morality of no people can be maintained above the morality of their laws." A good law—taking the side of virtue and sobriety—improves public sentiment and educates the people upward. But a bad law—winking at vice and sanctioning crime—debauches the public conscience and drags the people to a lower level. A prohibitory law is an elevator; but a license law is a demoralizer.

Put it into the constitution of every State. Put it into the Federal Constitution. Then give us a dominant party, back of the law, that really indorses the principle and is willing to live or die by it. That will give us Prohibition in fact.—Demorest Speaker.

this material being thrown up into the center or just beyond the edge of the ditch, thus preventing the surface water from flowing into the ditches, and, instead, turning it down the road!

In the maintenance of our dirt roads they should be divided into sections, with a foreman or overseer in charge of each section, whose duties should be to go over every mile of his section after every rain and at least every two weeks, and wherever he finds a portion of the road needing repair, he should have it done. After each heavy rain he should run a road drag over the road in order to bring it into shape and to fill up any ruts or holes that might have been started. We must bear in mind that roads will not maintain themselves, and that repairing a road simply once a year will not keep it in good condition.

In repairing a dirt road:

Don't fill up the holes and ruts in the road with brush, with rocks on top, and a little dirt to cover the rocks; but fill up the hole with dirt of the same character as the balance of the road.

Don't throw the refuse from the ditches into the middle of the road, thus softening the surface and destroying the solid, firm bed that you have obtained by previous work; but throw this material out on the opposite side of the ditch.

Don't leave the center of the road the lowest point; but make it the highest and give the surface of the road a slope of about 1 in 20 to the side ditch.

Don't carry the water across the surface of the road from one side to the other; but carry it by means of culverts underneath the road.

Don't have grades on your road over 4 1-3 per cent; for if you do it will be necessary to build V-shaped surface ditches or "Thank'you-mam's" across the road.

Don't, in working out the labor tax on the roads, try to make a holiday of it; but give an honest day's work on the road. Let us eliminate what is often seen in those sections where the roads are maintained by the labor tax—ten or twelve men and an overseer, a little gray mule, a small plow, six dogs, three or four guns, and a few tools which often are not considered worth using at home. This road force is not only hard on the rabbits, but also hard on the roads.

Don't reject the split-log drag because it is a cheap road machine, but use it constantly, for it is the most efficient road machine that we can use in maintaining the dirt road.

Bobbs—"A black cat came to my back fence last night." Slobbs—"Did it bring good luck?" Blobbs—"Yes, I hit it the first time I fired."

LONDON SPORTS LETTER

Special to Telegram.

London, May 13.—That English sport especially football and prize fighting are becoming more and more of a business is shown by the fact that regular union scales of wages have been adopted by men engaged in both.

The prize fighters have a trades Union whose scale is $2.50 a night. A meeting of the Football and Southern Leagues was held recently and as nearly all the session was devoted to the wages question I give the official report entire. It is as follows:

The proposals of the Players' Union were considered by a joint conference of the Football League and the Southern League, held at the Imperial hotel, J. McKenna presiding. Prior to the conference a deputation of Players' Union, consisting of C. Veitch, A. Bridgett, and A. S. Owen interviewed the Southern League. The proposals had been previously communicated to the League. The main items for which the Union contended were:

(1) That all players who were not offered a reasonable wage for re-engagement should receive a free transfer.

(2) Players who had been with a club for five years should be exempt from the maximum wage restrictions.

(3) Players who had served four years with one club should have their wages increased 11s. per week and those who had served two years 10s. per week over and above the maximum wage.

(4) That each club should pay talent money -L2 per man for a win in a League match and L1 per man for a draw.

(5) In F. A. Cup ties the scale was fixed—winners of the first round L3 per man, winners of the second L5 per man third round winners L & 10, fourth round 10L, semi-final round L12 10s. final L15. In the event of a draw both teams should receive half the amount.

(6) It shall be compulsory for players to participate in transfer fees in accordance with rules.

(7) That after a player has rendered five years' service his club should be in a position to pay him whatever they pleased.

(8) No player transferred for misconduct should receive any portion of the transfer fee.

After a full discussion the following resolutions were passed, and the secretaries were instructed to forward the same to the secretary of the Players' Union.

(1) That no alternation can be made in rule 6, dealing with transfers.

(2) That no alteration in rule 7, dealing with wages, can be considered until the present rule has been in operation for a reasonable period of time.

(3) That no alternations can be recommended in the present arrangements and provisions as to talent money.

(4) That each League will recommend to its respective clubs an alteration of rule 10, striking out the words "for financial reasons."

(5) The Management Committees will recommend their clubs to approve the issue of free passes to members of the Committee of the Players' Union, granting free admission to League grounds and stands for the purpose of watching League games.

"We have heard so much recently of the way in which Moran has filled out that it is almost surprising to read he was a legitimate feather-weight (9st or under) when he took the ring with Packy, who was, if anything, more than 140 pds. I do not think the boxer is breathing capable of giving McFarland a couple of pounds—to say nothing of a stone; therefore, if all this be true, one cannot wonder at the defeat of the "Brun." Owen is also reported as having had the best of at least four rounds, and the writer goes on to say that many of the boxing experts on the other side stand in with the pugilists' managers, and in a certain way boom their men when they fight. He adds to that it was a no decision affair, and says that if the contest had been refereed by an English judge he very much doubts if Packy would have been given anything better than a draw. As proof of the ability of Moran to get inside the feather-weight, we are told that at the scale he showed that he was a pound or two under 9st, while Packy went 9st 9 lb. Moran fought and defeated Battling Nelson, who took the ring at 9st. 10lb. Therefore, there may be some truth in the statements made to the effect that he is pretty nearly always giving away weight. This notwithstanding, I do not see how he could cope successfully with Mat Wells, to whom he would providing his weight return is correct, be called upon to give more than half a stone. The report that Wells and Moran are likely to meet on the Monday in Derby Week at N. S. C. is contradicted by Mr. Bettinson. I am told that if Owen wants a match nearer his own weight he can have one with Jim Driscoll up to 9st 2lb. and that for any part of L1000 side.

The remuneration received for their services by some of the professional boxers is little less than amazing. Big money, is of course, more in evidence abroad than here at home, by reason chiefly that the shows are of the gate-money order, and not fought in clubland, as is the case at the N. S. C., where the buildings in San Francisco and other places would hold dozens of "Rings" and Wonderlands. The heaviest purse ever put up for a boxing match in Great Britain was that given for the Welsh-Driscol contest, in respect to which The Sportsmen held in one way and another the tidy sum of $3,100. After Jackson defeated Slavin at the National Sporting Club in May of 1892 the management offered a prize of $3,000 for a match between the colored man and his old opponent, Jim Corbett, but the last-named declined, and so sourly, too, that he stated he would not fight even with Windsor Castle added to the purse. He came down in his terms, however, when later he faced Bob Fitzsimmons on St. Patrick's Day at Carson City, Nevada, and, what is more, he came down for good in the fourteenth round. Two thousand pounds is a pretty stiff sum for a fight, but surely it is dwarfed by £30 for three exhibitions rounds each of two minutes' duration. This is the amount, I am told on very good authority, that was given Bmbr. Well last Monday at Manchester for his little display with his trainer, Jim Maloney. One cannot blame the boxers for taking the money, but why should they fight if cash can be gained so easily. This on the top of Moir's £300 win, lose, or draw, in the same quarter, brings Manchester well to the fore again, as a very happy hunting ground for the professional boxer.

If Wells is worth £30 in a three-round spar, he should be a fine attraction in his contest at the National on Monday next, with Hague, especially bearing in mind that the men will be box for stakes of £200 a side, a purse of £300 , and the Heavyweight Championship Belt. Tom Inch may not have done what he promised, or threatened viz., to put an inch on Wells all round, but the Bombardier is certainly in very fine condition. His game will, of course, be to keep Hague away with his long left just as he did Dan Flynn, while the Yorkshire man will, on the other hand, do his best to get close. There is no doubt or question as to which man holds the hardest hit, and Hague's friends say he will get there and win. The Wells party are equally as confident, therefore, it is to be hoped we shall, by way of a change, see a downright good bout.

NEW YORK SPORTS LETTER

Special to Telegram.

New York, May 13.—Trotting horsemen and followers of the Grand Circuit will be pleased to hear that Secretary Kline of the Furniture City Driving Club, Grand Rapids, has only re-opened the $5,000 Comstock Purse for 2.12 class pacing, which failed to fill originally, but has received a total of twenty-seven entries for the event.

Since the stake failed to fill and it was announced that it will be reopened, horsemen have been wondering why no announcement has been made to that effect; yet the result wired last night shows that Kline has been busy.

That Grand Rapids feature pacing event has received as many entries as all similar purses down the big line once more demonstrates the fact that Grand Circuiters are with the leading citizens of the Furniture City, and it was merely a matter of overlooking or negligence that the purse failed to get the backing it now has.

Among the entries for the purse are Akar R. Bill Williams, Brannam, Baughman, Buster Brown, Butcher Boy, Capitola, Countess Marie, Druien, Dixie Lou, Ernest, Fannie Stanton, Hal Akin, Joe Patchen II., Judge Ward, Kirby Star, Lake Hal, Mattie March, Mile Wilcox, Nellie Temple, On Time, Peter Preston, Peter the Second, Pickles, Sih R., Teddy C. and Vernon McKinney.

The $20,000 handicap race announced for the half-mile track of Chateaugay, N. Y., has brought into the turf field another and new handicap race worth $10,000.

This newcomer is the Clinton County Agricultural Society of Plattsburg, N. Y. There is nothing better for the advancement and popularity of trotting sport than the offering of rich purses to campaigning stables, provided they are given under terms and conditions which show real liberality and will serve to indicate that the doners' honest motive is the benefit of the sport and breeding industry rather than merely pecuniary gain.

On the other hand, nothing has done and will always do more harm to racing than the periodical appearance of sportsmen, who, under the guise of sportsmanship, base all considerations upon the ultimate pecuniary income, for it has been repeatedly demonstrated that no sport has ever become a success or served its purpose when gain and money making have been the main effort and chief end of the promoters.

The announcement that Pittsburg will initate Chateaugay, and give a $10,000 handicap would surely be as welcome to the trotting horse world as was the Chateaugay event. If the conditions offered by the doners could impress the future patrons and the horse public that it was really a race for the benefit of the turf and harness horseracing.

One of the most peculiar conditions of this new handicap is that the race will go if there be ten starters, yet it calls for the preliminaries in each of which six horses may be qualified for the final.

Under the Plattsburg plan, if the association is lucky enough to score twenty-five starters, it can have a handicap race preliminary or final for four days, while the owner of any entry cannot tell where his horse will be if lucky enough to be qualified for the final, for the conditions distinctly stipulate that the qualified horses can be re-handicapped at the option of the judges.

Plattsburg horsemen, or rather, fair managers, have evidently been carried away either by enthusiasm or rivalry, and unless they make the sensible changes required in their conditions the same as Chauteaugay they will make a mess of what looked like a most beneficial innovation for half-mile racing.

A bill legalizing pari-mutuel betting in Virginia will be presented at the next meeting of the Legislature and it will be specific in regard to the mutuel system.

As speculating is permissible in Maryland—that is, in most counties—there will be an innovation this spring in the shape of mutuels. Three machines have been established. It is an experiment that will be fostered hereafter, as it is the intention of the Maryland Jockey Club to have no bookmaking after this meeting. It is not anticipated that the existing machines will get much trade while in conjunction with the bookmaking, but the management realizes that the mutual system of speculation will be the salvation of the sport in this country.

In the first place it sidetracks ninety-eight percent of the alleged crookedness that is supposed to exist in connection with the sport. It shuts out the plunging bettor, who has been one of the causes that have eaten into the welfare of horse racing.

Probably the most drastic improvement it will make is the elimination of a small percentage of undesirable race-track followers whose sole occupaion is in hotels, bar-rooms and on street corners and who spoke in the vilest terms of the sport and its promoters when the things had not gone to suit their ideas and pockets. With the bookmaker dethroned this element will cease to follow the races as a means of employment.

According to the future plans of the Maryland Jockey Club, the highest mutuel to be bought will be $10. Of course one man can buy many tickets, but the day of the plunger who could wager $10,000 without trouble will be over next fall at Baltimore.

The importance of the Maryland Jockey Club meeting is realized by turfmen. In the more prosperous years of racing Pimlico would never see the best horses in training as it will this season. It is a gathering of the best from Jacksonville, Juarez, Oakland, Tampa and Norfolk, and before the last day of the meeting it is well nigh certain that an excellent line will be had on the new crop.

Over 600 horses are on the grounds and in adjoining stables and many more would have been shipped had it been possible to secure accommodations for them. The management naturally looked after the turfmen who have been regular patrons of the course, first in tmbw P ednrkahjeldog ,.:; ,.:; the allotment of stable room and this has resulted in many good stables being shut out.

All of the big stables that have formerly not appeared on the scene until the meeting of the Westchester Racing Association have made liberal entries.

S. C. Hildreth, whose name headed the list of winning owners last season, has no fewer than twenty-five in his string. Sixteen of these are old horses and nine are 2-year-olds. When he began to gallop them over the old course it was found that he had them well advanced before he shipped from the winter quarters at Sheepshead Bay. Hildreth was represented in the opening program, having Firestone and Hampton Courtin the Country Club Purse, as well as Wood Dove and another in the fifth race, an affair for 2-year-old maidens.

PATRIOTS OUTPLAYED SPINNERS BUT LOST BY SCORE OF 3 TO 2

How the Patriots came to lose when they outbatted, outfielded and generally outplayed the Spinners is difficult to explain, but when the last man was out in the ninth inning yesterday afternoon the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of the visitors. Bases on balls by Wallace in the eighth, coupled with Smith's two-bagger decided the game, for the two men Wallace had walked came in on the Greenville manager's hit and left the score in the Spinner's favor. Greensboro had a number of men on bases during the afternoon, but they did poor base-running and only two runs were netted.

From the first it was seen that it would be a close and exciting game. Griffin was on the knoll for the visitors, and although he allowed a number of free passes to first, he had his opponents well in hand and allowed only one earned run. Wallace, who was on the mound for Greensboro, in some respects out-pitched his opponent, but was unfortunate in allowing two of his bases on balls to come in one inning, and these to be followed by Smith's long drive. The Patriots played an errorless game, while the visitors had four errors charged to them.

No runs were made in the first inning, but in the second hits by Corwin and Ware gave the locals the first run of the game. The score remained 1 to 0 until the sixth when Greenville sent a man across the rubber and tied it. Then in the eighth Wallace walked Kite and Sharpe and they scored on Smith's two-base hit. The Patriots made one run in the eighth also, Bentley getting a free pass to first, advancing on Doak's single and scoring on Clapp's hit.

The work of Doak, Doyle and Corwin in Greensboro's infield, the one-hand catch of Blackstone while running and the work of Kite, the Spinners' catcher, were features of the game, which abounded in good plays.

WHERE THEY PLAY THIS WEEK.

Doyle's men will go down to the city of Charlotte tomorrow to engage for three days in extracting some of the alleged stings from Cross's Hornets. Spartanburg seems to have gotten the work well under way, and it is up to the Patriots to complete the job. We are counting on not less than two of the three games.

The team will return Thursday and be at home the remainder of the week to Claney's Twins, who are now at the top of the percentage column.

Anderson will be at Spartanburg and Greenville at Winston the first three days o fthe week. The latter half of the week Anderson will be in Charlotte and Spartanburg in Greenville.

DIAMOND DUST

Why didn't that threatening cloud furnish a hard shower about the close of the fifth inning?

Can't understand yet why we didn't get the most runs.

Manager Smith was in a somewhat better humor yesterday.

Kite is about the best catcher we have seen on a visiting team.

It was a bad week for the Electricians.

Guess the Hornets will be still lower in the column about Wednesday night.

Rain in Anderson gives Clancy's men the top place alone this morning.

The Patriots have certainly made the other teams sit up and take notice this week.

The managers have been given until next Saturday to weed out their teams and bring them within the salary limit.

Bet Doyle's men have made fewer errors in the first 15 games than any other team.

Even a watch may feel all run down in the spring.
